Happy Hour with Andrew Rohlk

Andrew Rohlk is a multi-instrumentalist whose blend of soul, jazz, and pop evokes the sounds of Prince and Stevie Wonder. Rohlk has graced stages like The National in Richmond and Washington DC's U Street Music Hall. He is a singer-songwriter with music history knowledge that focuses on American traditions like blues & jazz but also contemporary artists in the modern pop music & rock & roll genres. Andrew enjoys exploring how music can help us process memories.
